Amazing Treatment!

Skin Problems Disappear Pet Stores Overwhelmed!

Pet owners and veterinarians around the world are raving about a revolutionary treatment for dog and cat skin diseases; Micro-Tek Medicated Shampoo and Spray, created by EQyss International. It eliminates flea dermatitis, seborrhea, corrects dry, flaky, skin, and the damage left by ringworm, virtually on contact! Testers are reporting that it has remedied the toughest skin problems when nothing else they've tried has worked. They are seeing tremendous results after just a couple of days.

Micro-Tek's amazing, patented formula was developed by NASA research on the decontamination of astronauts, and is the only product available that works on all skin problems. Heat rash and hives disappear overnight. Itching relief from ringworm is immediate. It's selling so fast; pet shops can't keep the product in stock!

Many pet owners actually contribute to their pets' skin conditions by using conventional grooming products. Most pet grooming products on the market today contain harsh chemicals, detergents, waxes, polymers, silicones, and oils which build up on an animal's skin and coat. It is the residue and build-up from these products which often causes fungal, bacterial, and viral skin conditions. Micro-Tek shampoo and spray restore moisture, balance, and strength to the coat while soothing skin irritation and removing harsh detergents, toxins, and medications that can cause discoloration, dullness, and itchiness.

Micro-Tek spray provides leave-on protection that continues to work for more than 24 hours. It promotes healthy skin and coat by eliminating skin conditions while adding protein to strengthen damaged areas. The product is easy to use, does not attract dirt or discolor white areas, and won't burn or sting your pet. It's even safe around their face and eyes.

Another benefit of Micro-Tek is that its miraculous, therapeutic effects are not limited to pets. People are also reporting great success with Micro-Tek in clearing up their own skin conditions like acne and psoriasis.

All EQyss products are non-toxic, environmentally friendly, and cruelty free. Micro-Tek is so effective it has an unconditional money back guarantee.

NO MORE FLIES...NO MORE MOSQUITOES HORSE JOURNAL STUDY SAYS MARIGOLD SPRAY 1ST CHOICE

The Horse Journal, after running exhaustive tests on natural ingredients fly sprays, reported that the bottom line and best product for horses with sensitive skin, young horses and horses that don't wear fly masks is EQyss Summer Defense Marigold Spray. They found it to be the gentlest and best smelling product tested, so gentle in fact, that they did not worry about spraying the horse's face with Marigold Spray.

The results of this study come as no surprise to me. As a horse person who's braved another long, hard winter, I'm as excited as ever at the prospect of riding my horse everyday until the snow falls once again. But with the approach of summer comes another hardship with which I have to deal-the constant barrage of attacking flies and mosquitoes.

And the worst part is that the choices for relief traditionally have been slim. Either I've had to decide between using the harshest of poisons and trying yet another herbal based product that doesn't even repel a housefly. The tack room shelf is full of half-empty bottles that have made claims to do what so far had never been done...to get rid of those bugs!!!

Until now, that is. Marigold Fly Spray has come to the rescue. Created by horse people for their horses, the research team at EQyss conducted years of testing in order to find the exact varieties of Marigolds that when mixed together-worked. Known throughout the ages as powerful insect repellents, the challenge was to combine the pest resistant properties from each so that the resulting formula would be as effective when used on horses as it has been in gardens for hundreds of years. And so, with an idea and the determination to make it happen, a unique and botanical product containing no silicone, detergents, or waxed based ingredients came into being-Marigold Horse Spray.

Safe for us to breathe, I gave a bottle to my Ferrier and vet who were happy to know they weren't breathing poison and could use it as often as needed during those hot summer days when horses can be particularly hard to handle.

And with aloe to soothe sensitive skin from irritation, it works even when my horse gets hot and sweaty. I especially like that it stays on for hours, although I can spray it repeatedly without a problem.

And, it seems that I'm not alone in my praise. In the year and a half that it's been on the market, Marigold Fly Spray has received high marks from all quarters of the country. A customer in Louisiana writes that she would spray her horse and it's mask with other products each morning, only to find hundreds of flies on both when she would return by evening. Then she tried Marigold Fly Spray. At the end of the day, not only did she find her horse insect-free but was amazed that there was not a fly to be found on the mask either.
